PROJECTS

DigitalOcean Gradient™ AI Hackathon Project: AI Technical Interview Simulator for Software Engineers - « IntervAI »

- Design the cloud architecture, analyze the requirements, and write the functional specifications.
- Build a full stack interview simulator with Spring Boot, Angular, and Spring AI
- Integrate DigitalOcean Gradient AI with two models for question generation and answer evaluation
- Engineered a multi-persona AI system with structured prompt templates and temperature tuning
- Deploy the application on DigitalOcean App Platform with Managed database secured inside a VPC

Project Management System « Taskify » - Backend Development

- Define functional requirements and design the system using UML.
- Developed the backend independently using Spring Boot to build API and secured it with Spring Security.
- Documented APIs using SpringDoc OpenAPI for easy reference and integration.
- Containerized the application and the database with Docker-compose for consistent deployment.

Spring AI Multi-Model Comparison Tool

- Develop a full-stack app to compare LLMs (OpenAI, Claude, and Ollama) responses using Spring AI.
- Implement a React interface with per-model latency and token estimation.

Web Application - Admission Process of our college « ENSA »

- Analyze the real admission workflow used by the school, then modeled it using BPMN diagram.
- Build responsive front-end interfaces using Angular and Bootstrap.
- Develop secure backend services with Java, Spring Boot, and Spring Security.
- Use MongoDB for scalable data handling. and Docker to containerize the application for easy deployment.

Location management web application

- Implement full CRUD functionality using Angular, TypeScript, and Bootstrap
- Integrate a JSON REST API for data retrieval and management.
- Containerize the application with Docker and deploy it on Kubernetes.
